BITTER CONTEST BETWEEN THE PRESI DENT AND THE SENATE.

The Vote Was 40 to 81-How It is Sur posed the Forces Were Arrayed for and Against This Nomines-Speech on Both Sides-Little Other Business Transacted in the Senate To-Day.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16 .- The nomina tion of Wheeler H. Peckham for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court was rejected by a vote of 40 to 31.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16 .- It was 12:30 o'clock when the Senate went into executive session to-day, and the second act in the Peckham entertainment was begun. It was an anxious night for the Administration, for not only did the President have defeat in this case staring him in the face, but the Hawaiian incident turned up again in the shape of the Dole letter, and between the two it was a nerally lively time for the President and

The news of the adjournment reached the President shortly after 6 last evening, and before 8 he had seen Secretaries Gresham and Hoke Smith, and carriages were flying all over town seeing about Senators and trying by further offers of patronage to get them to consent to vote for the confirmation of the nominee for a seat on the Supreme Bench. The two Secretaries had hardly gotten started on their missionary work before Gresham had to be called off because word came to the President that the Dole letter had been made public by the arrival of the steamer at San Francisco. The President and Gresham, therefore, were closeted at the White House until midnight. Hoke Smith night in making sencalls, and when he reported Executive Mansion he could in one convert, and that was Hill men never counted Colquitt as firmly on their side, and the conversion was not a great one.

This morning the Hill men, as usual, were at the Capitol early, and were as loud and from the holdover by Detective Tracy confident as ever in their claims of victory.

The assaults during the night did not hurt their side to any great extent, for the loss of Colquitt was offset by the return of Senator Aldrich with a vote against Peckham.

The Administration men this morning pos-itively refused to give any figures as to the vote and only say they have enough. The Hill men still claim a majority of eight. To the Post-Disparch correspondent Senator Chandler remarked: "The anti-Peckham side is stronger than their vote." In other words, there is a clear majority of 11 against confirmation, but this includes several Republican Senators who do not care to be recorded and will only vote against Peckham If their votes are necessary to reject.

The probable vote this morning when the Senate went into session was given about

THE MISSOURI SENATORS. There was a report this morning that Sena tor Cockrell of Missouri would vote for Peck-ham. This does not seem likely for the Senator read the editorial in Wednesday's Post DISPATCH with a smile upon his face as if of approval. He afterwards showed the paper to several of his colleagues.

Senator Cocarell was quoted last night as saying that if all the Federal appointments in Missouri were offered to him he would not you to confirm a man whom he thought un-Worthy.

Both of the Arkansas Senators, who opposed the confirmation of Mr. Hornblower, have had all the patronnge they wanted and are feeling very good natured toward the President.

are feeling very good natured toward the President.

The senators who are candidates for reelection, and who just now appreciate more fully than anybody else the value of patronage, are now getting all they want.

One Democratic Senator who has been against Peckham said that more appointments bad been made in his State on his recommendation within the last week than during the eleven months previous. He said: "They have now appointed everybody I have recommended for office since March with the exception of one girl who wants to be a teacher in an indian school."

Senator Daniel of Virginia has been trying for eight months to secure the appointment of Delaware Kemper, a Virginia editor, to a consulate, but has been told over and over again that Virginia had her share of these offices and that he must wait for other States to be satisfied. Mr. Kempet's name has been sent to the Senate, although Senator Daniel gave up the case more than a month ago. Mr. Daniel also gets the appointment of a very particular friend to the United States Marshalship for the Eastern District of Virginia, which was entirely unexpected to him.

Railway Lorby AT Work.

RAILWAY LOBBY AT WORK. The Union Pacific lobby and the men employed by the corporations favorable to the comfirmation of Peckham have been working hard all day, and state that it is the intention of the cuckoos to consume all to-day with talk and prevent a vote, and then adjourn the Senate over until Monday. Meanwhile they hope to work on the Senators so as to secure shough votes to confirm Peckham,

As soon as the doors were closed to-day, Senator Vilas began his speech in favor of confirmation. The interest manifested in the Peckham contest is unabated and a majority of the Senators are giving little attention to other subjects. The leaders on the respective sides have been very active since adjournment yesterday trying to capture votes.

Senator Vilas concluded his speech on the Peckham nomination at 2:80 and was followed by Senator Mitchell of Oregon, another member of the Judiciary Committe who favored confirmation. It is said that the Senators opposed to confirmation are fighting against further delay and will try to have the vote take place before adjournment of the Senate.

WANT THE FIGHT PINISHED. A Republican Senator, who is for confirma tion, said at 2 o'clock that he thought a vote would be reached between 4 and 5 o'clock today, and that the attempt to again adjourt without a vote would not be successful. There are to many Senators who are anxious to finish this matter to let the nomination go over for another day. I think Mr. Peekham will be defented by less than six majority, although I shall vote for his confirmation." firmation."
The Administration men were greatly surprised after the doors were closed to learn that Hoke Smith's convert, Colquitt, had again "changed his mind" and announced that he would vote against Peckham.

Senator Chandler presented a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate of the names of the Immigration Commissioners at the various ports of the United States. It was adopted.

On motion of Senator Hoar a resolution was adopted requesting the President, "if not incompatable with the public interests," to communicate to the Senate all records and dispatches from Mr. Willis, the present Minister to Hawaii, not heretofore transmitted, especially the dispatch communicating a letter from President Dole specifying certain charges against the conduct of Mr. Willis.

The Murderer and His Lawyers Confer-Important Testimeny.

At 10 o'clock this morning the physicians in attendance upon Mrs. Duestrow had very little hope of her recovery, but at 11 o'clock she began to rally and the doctors then began to feel that her re-covery was still to be shoped for. The condition of the prisoner has changed but little since the tragedy, despite the fact the Senator from Georgia. Colquitt. To-day at noon he was taken from the holdover by Detective Tracy and he held a long conference with his attorneys, Mrs. Charles P. Johnson and James L. Blair. The conference was held to arrange for the defense, and to straighten some business affairs. Duestrow appeared to be in a trance, a sort of blank look hang ing over his countenance, which only was dispelled when the conversation turned on the shooting and killing of his little boy Louis. Then he would weep bitterly for a moment. To every question concerning the shooting of the child the prisoner would respond with a sob, a shake of the head, and finally he remarked: "I don't know how that happened. I can't recollect that orcurrence at all." Gov. Johnson stated to a reporter that Duestrow was a very queer fellow. "He is the same now," he continued, "as on the day after the tragedy. He cannot explain the baby's death, but he remembers shooting his wife, and frequently inquires after her condition. He does not know why he shot her; in fact, he cannot give a straight statement and he can recollect nothing."

A warrant charging Duestrow with murder was sworn out by Goroner Frank to-day. The prisoner was transferred to jail this afternoon, beputy Sheriff Geiner executing the warrant.

Premeditation must be established to prove this charge. It is said that the Howard woman, with whom Duestrow was intimate, holds the key to the situation. Duestrow visited her house on the morning of the murder, and it is said that he told her he was going to fix his wife. The Howard woman has all along been very close mouthed to all questioners, but she has appeared to know more than she was willing to tell. It is said that the Assistant circuit Attorney sent for the woman this morning. The report could not be confirmed, however, although at the house a reporter was told that the landlady had gone out during the morning and had not returned.

The platform, roof and iron dashboard in front of the Washington avenue car was torn and twisted, the trucks slightly bent and the glass almost all broken. It was derailed but remained upright.

The Suburban car, No. 97, was going west, and was in charge of Conductor Alex Neece, and Motorneer John Rice. The Washington avenue car, No. 303, was going south on Grand avenue, in charge on Tom Manley; Motorneer, John Weiger. The Suburban line has the right of way at this crossing, and the Lindell cars are supposed to stop until they have safely passed. The motorneer of the Washington avenue car claims that on approaching the crossing he put on the brakes hard, but that owing to the slight down grade of Grand avenue at that point and to the wet and slippery condition of the tracks, due to the melting snow, the brakes relused to work and the momentum of the car caused it to still slide on with considerable velocity. He claims that he shouted at Rice, the motorneer of the Suburban car and also rang his beli, but that the latter paid no attention to him, but attempted to clear the crossing. At all events the Suburban car was struck fairly in the center of its side, with the above results. It is upon this question of right of way that any legal actions resulting will be decided.

The lines of both companies were obstructed for nearly an hour. Cars containing a gang of men carrying the necessary tools were quickly on the scene and the work of removing the wrecked cars was rapidly pushed forward. The Lindeli car was jack screwed back on the track, and after some necessary repairs run back to the barn. The raising of the Suburban car, nowever, proved a greater undertaking, and it was fally an hour and a half before it could be removed.

George W. Baumhoff, superintendent of the Lindell Railway, was upon the scene shortly after the accident. He explained that the cause of the failure of the brakes of the Washington avenue car to work. That the motorneer of the car had set the brake he said was certain. As he himself had tried the brake directly he arrived and had found it set so hard that he failed to release it, though exerting all his strength.

As she looked at this car, she states, she saw the motorneer give the brake one turn and then jump off. Mrs. Shesley was sitting near the stove and as the car was overturned she was thrown against it, badly bruising her knee. In her hand she held a pocketbook containing 310 and some cents, which was lost.

Sitting in front of Mrs. Sheeley, was a swoman with a baby. As the car was thrown on its side, she says, a negro caught the child and saved it from injury. The mother was badly cut about the face. At last the voting was begun, and it developed that Mr. Bland had only about 100 of his supporters in the house, so that he will probably be unable to obtain a quorum this week.

Mr. Cummings, Chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, presented a question of privilege, the report of his committee on Mr. Boutelle's resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Navy to inform the House by what authority instructions were issued in placing the amed naval forces of the United States and the use of its ensign under the control of James H. Blount, and also furnish the House with copies of all orders, directions, instructions or official suggestions issued by him since March 4, 1893, concerning the movement of the naval forces at Hawaii.

He explained that the committee recommended the passage of the resolution amended so as to call for all orders from March 4, 1892, instead of 1893. He yielded a moment to Mr. Boutelle, who urged the importance of the resolution which he said had already been delayed six weeks. The information called for by it, he thought, should have been before the House when the Hawaiian resolutions were being debated.

have come from Paris to London in less, and to have worked here with his brother, a small master tailor.

Bourdin, according to the police, visited all the Anarchist clubs of this city, and became imbued with their opinions and methods. In 1891, Bourdin is said to have gone to the United States and to have been employed by a ladies' tailor establishment in Detroit directed by a Hebrewenamed Wellgard.

According to the police Bourdin, after leaving Detroit, returned to Paris, and from there came to this city. He is said to have been a trusted organizer of the Anarchists, and the police here expressed the opinion that when he met his death he was on, his way through Greenwich Park to the famous Greenwich Observatory with the Intention of blowing up that institution.

Bourdin has been watched by the police for some time past, as it was believed that he was contemplating some desperate deed. His sister-in-law says that Bourdin called upon her yesterday, and that when she playfully pushed him he exclaimed:

"For God's sake don't push me."

From this it is believed that Bourdin must have had the explosive in his pocket when he called upon his sister. The dead Anarchist, it has been ascertained, was a frequent speaker at the debates of the Autonomic Club, though his attendance at the club lately has been less frequent than usual.

A sensation was sprung in Judge Fisher's ourt to-day by the filing of amdayits in support of a motion for a new trial in the case of George H. Sly et al. against the Union Depot Railway Co. The case was one for damages for the death of Percy G. Sly, who was run over and killed by a car of the Union Depot Railway Co.. at Gravois avenue and Arsenal street, on the afternoon of July 11, 1893. It was set for trial on Jan. 16 last, but did not come up until the next day. Gov. Charles P. Johnson and J. D. Johnson represented the plaintiffs, and Mr. G. A. Finkelnburg the railway company. The trial lasted two days and the jury returned a verdict for the railway company. The most important witness for the defense was a man named John Lowe, who gave his occupation as that of a waiter, and who testified that he was the only passenger on the motor car of the train that ran over young Sly, and was an eye-witness of the accident. He swore that he was on his way, at the time, to Koerner's Garden, in search of a job, and that the accident was entirely due to the boy's carelessness and negligence.

It was mainly on his evidence, it is said, that the jury returned their verdict against the plaintiffs. In the amdavits filed to-day by C. P. and J. D. Johnson, attorneys for the plaint!ffs, some startling revelations are made, which not only tend to prove that this man Lowe is a very ubiquitous witness, but that Mr. Thomas Barron, the Claim Agent for the Union Depot Railway Co., has placed himself in a very peculiar light by his solicitude to procure proper evidence for his company in its damage suits.

LOWE AS A WITNESS. The story, as developed by the amdavits, dates back to the last day of the trial, when Lowe testified. When put on the stand by Mr. Finkelnburg he testified in brief as follows:

My name is John Lowe. I reside in St. Louis and lived here in July last. I was a or five more in the trailer which followed.

The car was going at a pretty fair gait. I saw the boy grab the handle of the back platform of the motor car and try to get on. He was swung around and fell off between the cars, the whoels of the trailer passing over him.

The conductor was on the front platform of the rear car and I saw him ring the bell and halloo to the boy to keep back. The train was going at the rate of about four miles an hour at the time.

On cross-examination by Mr. Johnson be said he had not testified at the Coroner's inquest, He did not know why. His name had been given to the conductor as a witness.

Mr. Barron had hunted him up two or three days after the accident and talked with him about it. He was then living at 124 North Eighth street. He signed a statement which Mr. Barron kept. He was not paid anything or promised anything for testifying.

He got on the car at Sixth and Pine streets and was going to Koerner's Garden to get a job. After the accident he got off the car and saw the boy. The body was carried away.

In answer to a number of questions whether it was the south end or east end of the car in which he was sitting and in what direction the boy's body lay after the accident the witness was very much mixed in his testimony was in direct conflict to that of several other witnesses, who testified that the car slowed up as if to stop to receive a number of passengers who were waiting for it, and just as young Sly grasped the handle of the plait form to board the first car it started suddenly again and he was thrown off under the wheels of the trailer.

After all the evidence was in, the arguments in and the case given to the jury, an unknown man approached Gov. Johnson and told him an attempt had been made to bribe him to testify in the case. The facts in connection with this are set forth in the following affidavit of Gov. Johnson:

Gov. Johnson, being duly sworn upon his cash,

In order to corroborate in part this statement of O'Connell's, Gov. Johnson had Mr. his brother, J. D. Johnson, and who is also a notary public, go with O'Connell to the store of Hess & Melser, at the northeast corner of Fourth and Pine streets. There dr. L. J. Melser, one of the firm, identified O'Connell as the man who came to his store on Saturday, Jan. 13, in company with Thomas Barron. Mr. Melser made affliavit to Barron having purchased the gloves and necktie which O'Connell had with him as the ones had sold. He said Barron claimed to have lost them on a bet.

Suspicions having already been aroused as to the genuineness of Lowe's testimony in the Sly case, Mr. John D. Johnson says that Gov. Johnson remembered Mr. Hugo Muench having spoken to him on the day of trial about Lowe. PIGURED IN ANOTHER CASE. Mr. Muenca informed Gov. Johnson that Mr. George (Lubke, Jr., had tried a case in Justice spaulding's court in which the Union Depot Hailway Co. was defendant and Lowe was a witness for the company. Mr. Rule was requested to call on Mr. George Lubke, the result of which was the following affidavit:

as known Mr. John Scullin was largely inscreeted. It appears that there were two uses against the company growing out of the ame accident, and that while Lowe testified a one he was not put on the stand in the ther. The attorneys in these cases were ssee M. Freels and Amos R. Taylor.
Mr. Rale was dispatched to find these genlemen and ascertain if the Lowe who testied in East St. Louis was the same John many accidents on Mr. Scullin's line in St.

WHAT MR. FREELS SWEARS. affidavit is as follows:

Mr. Freels' affidavit is as follows:

June M. Freels, of lawful age, being duly sworn upon his eath, easys: I was one of the attorneys for whintff in the case of Thomas Cauley vs. East St.

an action for damages for personal injuries, and was tried in the City Court of East St. Louis, 8t.

A transcript of the testimony of John Lowe in the case is then given. He testified that the lived at 1324 North Eighth street, St. ouls, and kept a boarding-house. He had een the car run over the little boy, Patrick Cauley.

On cross-examination by Mr. H. R. Taylor he said he had gone to East St. Louis that day to look up a stand for a barber-shop. He did not remember the condition of the weather, and could not tell whether there was show on the ground that day. The conductor of the car had taken his name the day of the accident. He was asked why he was not a witness in the other case and he reblied he did not know. lied he did not know. Then Mr. Taylor asked him:

"Who did you see in connection with being gentleman ever there. I don't know his "His name is Barren, I will introduce you to him. Do you know what his connection with the railroad is?"

"I do not."
"When did you see him?"
"I saw him—let me see—it was this morning."
"That is the first time?"
"He could not find out where I live: I moved.
"The first time you saw him was this morning."

"Yes, sir."

It will be seen from this testimony of Lowe's, which was given on Sept. 6, 1898, that he says he did not know Barron and has never seen him until that day. In the Sly case he testified that Barron had hunted him up a few days after the accident, which was July 11, 1898, almost two months before. Mr. Preels further states in his afidavit that this John Lowe is the same person who testified in the Sly case.

The second of these amdavits is by Philip P. Adams, the barber at 1807 O'Fallon street. He swears that Lowe has been a barber in his shop since May or June, 1893. He had heard him speak of Barron as the Vice-President of the Scullin system, and he had asked at times, as an excuse to get off, that he wanted to meet Tom Barron. He had known Barron to visit the shop to see Lowe on three occasions—one in August last, and occasionally he world send for him. He knew it was Barron who sent for him, because he saw Barron's rig at the saloon across the street, and besides Lowe told him when he came back he had seen Barron.

ORAND-JUNY INVESTIGATION.

Mr. J. D. JOHNSON, when asked what steps if any would be taken towards having John Lowe arrested, said:

"Those amdavits certainly present a remarkable state of affairs and as they are a past of the court records they are public property. Gov. Johnson and myself can not well afford to let the matter rest here. I am of the opinion that the disclosures already made are sufficient to warrant the Grandjury in taking the matter up and making further investigations. We shall certainly do all in our power to expose the secret methods of any individual or corporation in the direction of bribing witnesses or procuring them to testify falsely. It is a stigma on our courts and an outrage on justice which should not go unpunished.

MR. JAMES SCULLIN SEEN.

MR. JAMES SCULLIN SEEN.

Barron entered the service of the Union
Depot Railway Co. at the time Mr. James Scullin was its General Manager. With that gentleman he has an excellent reputation When informed of the case Mr. Scullin was oth to believe that he was guilty of such loth to believe that he was guilty of such conduct.

"Barron entered the service of the company," said Mr. James Scuilin, "first as a watchman for the mound city Line. He appeared to be a fairly able fellow and was soon made "starter" at Fourth and Pine streets. Next he ran a car and soon after was made "time agent," in which capacity it was his duly to ride about on care and see that schedule time was made. I attended, in the main, to the claim business myself, but often I would take Barron along with me as an assistant. He was not then a claim agent; in fact, there was no such position. Frequently I would have him look up our witnesses in a suit and instruct him to accompany unwilling witnesses to court. When this was done I would give him a couple of dolars for car fare, etc., and that was all the money he ever handled. His salary was very small, but I always regarded him as a good, honest fellow."

but I always regarded him as a good, noness fellow."

"Not a cent," was the reply. "No one connected with the company ever was allowed to handle money except mysalf. I do not believe there is any such fund now. It would not pay to allow an employe to handle money for which he did not have to account, and I am satisfied that every nickel spent by Barron must be accounted for to the proper person."

Mir. Scullin also stated that several times he had heard charges of hiring perjurers he had heard charges of hiring perjurer brought against other companies, but such charges generally proved groundless.

MR. LUBKE DISCUSSES HIS EXPERIENCE. Attorney George W. Lubke, Jr., had but ttle to add to the story of his experience with Lowe as set forth in his affidavit, which he said contained all the material facts. was satisfied from the first that there was something peculiar in this witness' testisomething peculiar in this witness' testimony. When he testified before Justice spaulding he made some assertions which I regarded as ridiculous. For instance he swore that he had gone from down town to see a barber early enough in the morning to enable him to catch the first car back to town, leaving the barn. This car starts about 50 clock in the morning. Then he swore that in spite of the fact it was a cold winter's morning in January he stood in front of the car with the motorneer. When he falled to appear as a witness in the stood in front of the car with the motorneer. When he failed to appear as a witness in the Circuit Court, although he was in the room, after the conductor, the first witness on the stand, had sworn that there were no passengers aboard at the time of the accident, my suspictons were confirmed. It would not do for the company to impeach the testimony of one of their own witnesses by that of another."

PRESIDENT SCULLIN SEEN. President John Scullin was opposed to a full discussion of the charges against Barron. "I am going to slit the thing thoroughly, and when I get ready will file my answer to the charges in court. "Does Barron deny procuring testimony in the manner charged by the afficiavits?"

"Of course he does."
"And do you believe him?"
"You bet I do, or I wouldn't keep him in my employ a hundredth part of a second. The whole thing is all — bosh. There's nothing to it."

BARRON DENIES IT ALL. Thomas L. Barron, the man who as Claim Agent of the Union Depot Railway Co., ha een directly responsible for the alleged conspiracy to cheat the ends of justice, was ound in Clayton where he was busy tending to the evidence in a damage suit against his company. He is a sharp looking man, perhaps 40 years of age, with a slightly bald head and a brown Boulanger beard which gives him a rather distinguished air. He pro-fessed never to have heard of the charget against him and treated the matter rather fessed never to have heard of the charges against him and treated the matter rather lightly.

"Oh," he said, after a Post-Dispatch reporter had explained to him the part he is alleged to have taken in the conspiracy, "there is nothing at all in that. These charges are simply the work of a lot of sorehead shyster lawyers who have been defeated in their cases against the road and are now trying to get even."

"Do you call Gov. Johnson a shyster lawyer?"

"No, he is not, but a lot of these fellows are."

"Won't you mention some of their names?''
''No, because there is no use in going into

"Do you know a man named John Lowe?"
"Yes, as a witness."
"How many cases has be testified in for you?"
"Only two, one in East St. Louis and one here."

"Do you not think it is strange in the light of all the circumstances that this man should have seen two accidents on your road?"

"Not at all. I myself have seen six."

"Did you ever pay him any money for testifying in your behalf?"

"Never. Both times he volunteered his name to the conductor as a witness to the accident, and was accordingly subposeneed. never asked nor did we ever offer him cident, and was accordingly subposnaed. He never asked nor did we ever offer him a cent."

'Do you know James O'Connell?"

'As a witness only."

'Did you ever offer him any money to testify in your behalf?"

'No , sir. I met this man first a few days after Sly was hurt. He spoke to me on the street, telling me that he had seen the accident and that he would testify in our behalf. I took his name. He said I could find him whenever I wanted to at a Sixth and Pine streets sulcon. On Jan. 18 last I began serving subpoensa for the Sly case. I found O'Connell at Sixth and Pine streets, and putting him in my buggry took him to Lawyer Gustavus A. Finkelinberg to have him tell what he knew. The Corbett Mitchell inght at that time was engrossing public attention, and I bet O'Connell a pair of gloves that Mitchell would win. As O'Cohnell seemed rather, in need I bought the gioves on the condition that if my man won he should pay for the gloves and also furnish me with another pair.

'The reason he did not testify in the case was that on the morning it went to trial he came to me in company with 'Ouddy Mack' and demanded $100 to testify. I refused this, and told him to get out, because we are not in the habit of paying our witnesses anything. All we want is just the facts, regardless of whether it hurts us or not.''

"'Did you ask any odds of O'Connell in the bet?"

'No, I did not."

500 WORKMEN

Earn Wages During the Lake Work's Opening Week,

Despite Beginning in a Snow Storm With Ground Frozen.

Relief Extended in the Face of Most Serious Obstacles.

NEXT WEEK THE FUND WORK WILL AT-TAIN ITS FULL SCOPE.

from 800 to 1.000 Laborers Will Find Work, and by Systematic Degrees, Several Thousand Will Be Reached-Excavation Work Postponed This Week Owing to Snow and Frozen Ground-The Fund Committee's Notification-Help the Unemployed!

Owing to the frozen condition of the ground it is impossible to enlarge the force now em-ployed on the Lake Improvement. As soon as the weather permits the work will be presecuted with the largest numbers of laborers that can be profitably employed. Notice will be sent by mail to those who have registered at the Post-Dispatch. We hope to continue the work in full force early next week. The number of unemployed workmen applying for work has satisfied the committee as to the urgent need of this method of rettef, and our earnest hope is that our fellow citizens will so increase their contri butions to the Lake Fund that it may give employment to the largest number possible by extending the work.
Sam'L J. Niccolls,

HENRY C. HAARSTICK, THOS. O'REILLY.

Work on the Forest Park Lake is being prosecuted with all the dispatch possible during the present unusually severe winter weather. The work of excavation cannot be begun this week owing to the fact that the ground is frozen about eight inches deep and there are five inches of snow on the surface.

These unlooked-for conditions at the open ng of the work prevented the enlargement of the force of laborers at the rate expected. But the present indications are for moderating weather and it is thought that the full scope of the lake work can be reached by Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Even with the work done this week under the adverse circumstances of opening in a snowstorm and with the ground frozen, 500 nen have been given relief which they would have lacked otherwise; the welcome relief of one and two days' wages for honest labor. Over 300 laborers, with shovels, mattocks, etc., were put to work on the Forest Park Lake the first day. Yesterday 194 men with axes were employed.

To-day and to-morrow the same number will be kept at work and next week it is con-fidently hoped that the highest number possible to the work-from 800 to 1,000 men-be given employment and the lake work will then be under full headway.

Upon every increase of the working force the additional number of men required will be notified by mail, their names being obtained from the fists of names registered at the Post-Dispatch office. It will be useless for men not so notified to apply on the grounds. The following rules should be borne in mind to prevent this trouble and ex pense of going out to Forest Park.

L. ALL MEN MUST BE REGISTERED

AT THE POST-DISPATCH OFFICE.
THAT EACH MAN SO REGISTERED WILL BE NOTIFIED FROM THE LISTS BY MAIL WHEN HIS TURN COMES. HE CAN THEN REPORT AT

To-day the laborers laid off yesterday are being paid for their work. Many of them say it is the first wages they have been able to arn for months. They are earn for months. They are grateful for the work that brings them this relief.

On Monday the full pay-roll will be made up, and all men employed on the Forest Park ake work will be paid. Every Monday thereafter, on the grounds at Forest Park the payment of wages to these workmen wil be made-the wages that will save them from privation or beggary.

In order that this relief may reach the greatest number possible the force of laborers at work will be changed at stated times as completely as is possible to the practical nature of the work, and new men given employment. In this way several thousand men may be given employment on the lake work and share in the relief coming from wages earned by their labor, instead of being dependent upon charity.

Under the wise administration of the Fund Committee, composed of Rev. Samuel J. Niccolls, Mr. Henry C. Haarstick and r. Thomas O'Reilly, the fund work will be carried for ward to its fullest success. Its mission of re lief for the unemployed will be fulfilled to its grandest measure. The lake in Forest Park will be made by the labor of the otherwise unemployed men of St. Louis. The initial difficulties in the way of this great undertaking have now been overcome.

Under these conditions, and assured of Geo. W. Taussig, attorney......

Under these conditions, and assured of carrying out its plan of relief for the unemployed the Lake Employment Fund appeals to every citizen of St. Louis for co-opera-tion and willing help. Every dollar subscribed to the fund will be paid in wages to a needy and deserving workman, and will add to the extent of the lake to be made in Forest

HOW CENTRAL PARK WAS MADE. In the spring of 1867 times were as hard in New York City as they are at present in St. Louis. Streets were crowded with unemployed men and hunger and suffering was in ployed men and hunger and suffering was in many families, besides banks were in a bad condition, and five to six broke and closed almost every day.

Hon. Fernando Wood, New York's great Mayor, then planned Central Park, called the property owners together, and after a little persuasion had their respective property deeded to the park fund, and besides had $100,000 on the subscription list and the city signed $100,000 more out of the city funds, and in a few weeks 10,000 of these unemployed men found relief.

They worked for over six months. Times got better, and in the fail of the same year Central Park was opened with great ceremonies. Fernando Wood had saved New York's unemployed, and besides had created one of the finest parks in the world.

Its Grand Fall for the Fund Benefit Was a Gratifying Success. The grand ball given by lodges Nos. 7, 8, 46 and 95 of the American Railway Union for the benefit of the Lake Fund at Concordia Hall last evening was a highly enjoyable as well as a very successful affair. The cold weather and the fact that it was Lent only served to reduce to comfortable proportions the throng of merry dancers that would otherwise have filled the hall to overflowing.

Between the dances there were gome very pleasing diversions in the shape of vocal selections. The Clover Leaf Quartette, composed of four young gentlemen of the South side, namely: James Horton, first tenor;
Frank Snyder, second tenor; Frank Klesius, barytone, and John Frank, bass—sang several very tuneful selections, including 'Snowflakes' and a difficult arrangement of the ever popular 'Annie Laurie.' Chairman John W. Lally of the Floor Committee also delighted the assemblage by mounting the stage after supper and singing a song of his own composition on the "Tarift." The gentlemen of the Railway Union who worked so hard to make last night's ball a grand success were: Mr. G. O'Toole, chairman and Messrs S. B. Parker, John W. Laily and W.
S. Moore of the Arrangement Committee parcess were: Br. G. O'toole, chair and W. S. Moore of the Arrangement Committee particularly, and Messrs. L. Laudenbeyer, H. Doudevelle, J. Mullhearn, J. Accionagel, Thomas Mullee, H. P. Hagan, James Derrey, A. S. Phelan, J. D. Sheridan, A. Smith, James Meeker, E. J. Scanlan, S. Chappell and W. M. Dougherty. A nice sum was realized for the Lake Fund, which will be turned over by the charitable railroaders in a few days.

AT THE GERMANIA.

Success of the Esmond Stock Company Performance for the Fund Benefit. The Esmond Stock company, amateurs, produced "A Social Outcast" at the Germania Theater last evening for the benefit of the Lake Fund. The audience was fair in size and very enthusiastic. The production size and very enthusiastic. The production was very creditable. The actors appreciated the strong points of the play and understood their roles fully. Mr. J. S. Lee, the author of "A Social Outcast," is to be congratulated. The play is quite strong in plot and situation. Its story is as follows: Henry Bradley sees himself distanced in the race for Lucy Mayne's affections by Wallace Fairmont and contrives a plot to throw the suspicion of the theft of $20,000 upon his rival. Lucy yields to the overwhelming evidence. Fairmont poisons himself, being deserted by everyone and is saved by the repentant Lucy. Bradley attempts to poison him again, but is an masked by his accomplice, Ragged Ben, whom he stabs in the last seene. Harry Esmond made a strong Ragged Ben, and the three leading roles were well played by H. W. Monroe, as Wallace Fairmont; George F. Muusa, as Henry Bradley, and Charlie Stuart Severson, as Lucy Mayne. The remainder of the cast were J. F. Tracy, as George somers; E. J. Wellmuth, as Mark Oldcraft; Henry McMahon, as William Gorge; Somers; Eloise, as Nancy Monahan. The music was good. was very creditable. The actors appreciated

Condition of Cohen and Mulich, Hurt a Forest Park Yesterday.

Michael Cohen, one of the workmen en ployed on the lake improvement at Forest Park, and who was injured yesterday by the ployed on the lake improvement at royest Park, and who was injured yesterday by the falling of a tree, while not dangerously injured, will not be able to perform any labor for some time. Cohen was one of the great army of the unemployed and was in destitute circumstances. Being unable to find employment for several months past, he relied largely on police relief for the maintenance of himself and family. Colen, with his wife and one child, lives in an up-stairs room at 718 Biddle street.

Nartin Mulich has a wife and one child, the latter is months old. He came from Austria about one year ago, working his passage over on the ship. After being employed in a lumber yard in North 2t. Louis a short time he saved enough money to send for his wife and child about five months ago. Since his wife arrived he has been out of employment. From his neighbors it was learned that he was in very poor circumstances. They all give him a good reputation and say the lack of employment is the only cause of his poverty.

Br. Oatmen, who treated Mulich at the City Hospital, said that he was suffering from a lacerated and contused wound of the scale, we have a fracture of degrees on the stail.

THE CORONER'S VERDICE Inquest on the Body of Michael Cummings

Held To-Day. Deputy Coroner Albers held an inquest today on the body of Michael Cummings, who was killed at Forest Park yesterday by a tree falling on him. John B. Cummings of 1110 South Ninth street, son of the deceased, testified that his fatheriwas 56 years old, testified that his fatheriwas 56 years old, was born in Ireland and had lived in this city for forty years. At the time of his death he was living at 2316 Chestnut street. He had been out of employment for eight months. Frank G. Davis testified that at about 9:30 a.m. yesterday he was warming his feet at a fire in Forest Park, near where the new lake is being built and deceased was standing about eight feet east of him. suddenly a tree about thirty feet north fell on the deceased and crushed him to the ground. He was dead when the tree was removed. It was resting on his head. A verdict of fracture of the skull caused by an accident was rendered. Cummings was not employed at the new lake, but went out to the park hoping that he might be put on-

The Accident Happened to the Vessel During Tuesday's Hurricane.

SHE AT ONCE PUT ABOUT AND MADE FOR QUEENSTOWN.

The Steering Apparatus Was Replaced by a Jury-Rigged Rudder and the Vessel, Steering in a Raphagard Manner. Made Some Progress-Passengers on Board, Numbering 555, Acting Very Coolly Under the Trying Circumstances - Assistance Sent to the QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 16.—The steamship adriatic of the White Star Line, which left New York on Feb. 7 for Liverpool, passed Brow Head this morning, and upon arrival here reported passing a large disabled passenger steamer off Daunts Rock, south of Ireland. The steamer was at anchor and did not seem to be in need of assistance.

The Adriatic's commander expressed the opinion that the disabled steamship was the Paris of the American Line, which recently left Southampton for New York, and which consequently must have been disabled at soa and put back to Southampton, anchoring off Daunts Rock in order to communicate with the shore.

As soon as the news of the reported accident reached here the agent of the American Line, on board a tug, left this port for the spot where the Paris was reported to have

Some details of the disaster to the Paris reached here later through a boat's crew which landed from the Paris not far from Daunts Rock this morning. The boat's crew reported that the Paris, during the hurricane on Tuesday last, lost her rudder while n her way to New York and was compelled to put about and try and make for Queenstown, where her rudder might be repaired, and from there she proposed to put back to Southampton, where she could be thoroughly repaired.

Being a twin-screw steamship and a jury rudder, which was of considerable effect, been rigged, the Paris was able to steer in a haphazard manner and succeeded in reaching Daunts Rock in safety.

Capt. Randall of the Paris, when he made land, determined to anchor ia order that he might not expose his disabled vessel to the chance of being carried by the numerous strong currents off the coast into a position of danger. As soon as possible afterward one of the lifeboats was manned and lowered and a boat's crew was sent ashore with inguard station and have the news of the acci-dent to the steamer telegraphed to Queens-town. The boat's crew was also instructed to report that all were well on board the Parls and that there was absolutely no dan-ger of anything further happening to the ger of anything further happening to the steamer.;

The weather is moderate and a pilot was sent with the American Line's agent to the assistance of the steamer. It was thought probable that the Paris would be assisted as far back as this port, where temporary repairs could be made to her rudder, and it was believed that she would make for queenstown in order that the repairs might be completed.

Completed. The charge of the boat which I handed from the disabled steamship later made his official report to the company. In this report the officer said that the rudder of the Paris was carried away or very seriously damaged on Monday evening, when the steamship was about 800 miles to the westward.

steamship was about 800 miles to the west-ward.

The Paris had 189 salcon passengers on board, 116 second-class passengers and 259 steerage passengers. The officer of the Paris said that at no time was there any serious danger and that the passengers took the matter cooily when informed that an accident to the ship would necessitate her return to southampton or Queenstown.

The disaster to the Paris, it was later learned, was caused by the breaking of the rudder in what is known as the trunk. The Paris is expected here shortly, and it is said that her passengers will be embarked upon a Quinard steamship and forwarded to their destination, New York, as soon as possible.

The Paris later safely arrived here and not one of the passengers requested to come ashore. All the boats in the harbor seemed to gather around the disabled steamship and a survey was made of the damage to her rudder.

It is stated that the passengers of the Paris rudder.

It is stated that the passengers of the Paris will proceed to New York by the Berlin of the same line, which will call here on Sunday, but it is expected that the post-office authorities will insist upon the malls of the Paris being forwarded by the Aurania of the Cunard Line.

HAD RECEIVED NO DETAILS. NEW YORK, Feb. 16 .- At the offices of the American Steamship Line on Bowling Green the officers of that company this morning said they had received no details of the mis-hap to the Paris, and that the only informa-tion they had on the subject was contained in a snort cablegram sent to the Maritime Ex-chance. The officers said, however, that no lears need be entertained for the safety of the Paris, as she was considered to be un-sinkable.

Sinkable.

The Paris was formerly one of the Inman Line steamers and bore the name City of Paris, but since her transfer to the American line sne is simply the Paris. The Paris is one of the finest and speedlest of the Atlantic liners and made the fastest record on the westward passage from Queenstown to Sandy Hook, which she gained in August last.

At that time she made the trip in 8 days, 19 hours and 57 minutes. Her length on water aboard but one managed to reach and to the the story of the disaster.

When the Alert left Port Albert she had a crew of twelve men all told, besides two passengers. When the steamer rounded Cape Schanck a southerly gale was blowing with hurricane violence. An enormous green sea broke on board, and as the steamer rolled the sea filled the decks flush with the rails, carrying off everything movable, and passed down the hatches and skylights into the vassel.

down the hatches and skylights into the vessel.

The fires in the engine-room were put out at once and all bands were scarcely on deck before one sea after another broke over the steamer, burying her to the gunwale. Then she suddenly went from under their feet and all were left struggling in the waves.

Ponting, the cook, managed to get hold of a cabin door, and clung to it all through the night. When day was breaking he touched sandy bottom, staggered a few steps up the beach and fell unconscious, remembering nothing more until he saw his rescuers around him.

LOSS OF THE EILLAN DONAN. SYDNEY, New South Wales, Feb. 16.—Capt. McDonald, his officers and the crew of the brigantine Eillan Donan arrived in Sydney by the French mail steamship Ville de la Clotat from Noumes on Jan. 19 and brought news of the loss of their vessel. The Ellian Douan, while in the act of going about, when off Chesterfield Reef, about a mile northward of Long Island, went ashore and was broken

THE LOST SCHOONER MAGGIE. The British Steamer Drummond Rescue

the Perishing Crew. LONDON, Feb. 16.-The British steamer Drummond, Capt. Mundle, from New Orleans, Jan. 24, for Rotterdam, has arrived at Dartmouth and landed Capt. Moore and the crew of six men of the schooner Maggie, which was abandoned on Jan. 31 in latitude 38, longitude 60.
During a terrible hurricane the Maggle was thrown on her beam ends, and to right the vessel the masts were cut away. During the height of the storm the mate was washed overboard.

overboard.

The Drummond hove in sight just in time, as the crew were almost entirely exhausted with their efforts to save their vessel. The rescue was made with the greatest difficulty on account of the high sea and rough weather. Capt. Moore and his crew have gone to Liverpool and will go by steamer to America.

Saving the Kearsarge's Hull.

Colon, Feb. 16 .- The authorities at Wash ington have been in communication with dmiral Stanton, recently in command of the wrecked cruiser Kearsarge, as to the the wrecked cruiser kearsarge, as to the possibility of saving the hull of that historical craft.

It is understood here that Admiral Stanton and the officers of the Kearsarge have expressed the opinion that there is little or no chance of ever floating the Kearsarge again.

FINED FOR CHIVALRY.

John Rayburn Whipped Men for Smoking in the Fresence of Women. John Raybarn's chivalry has got him into trouble and jail. John is middle-aged, colored and a hod-carrier by occupation. He lives with his wife in their own home on Florence avenue, near St. Jouls avenue.
Last evening he west down on "Mawgan" street and drank a few glasses of beer, taking the 2 o'clock owl car on the Citizens' line for home. At Grand avenue two colored women boarded the car. Several of the men continued smoking. This angered Hayburn and jumping to his feet he declared the men in the car ought to have as much respect for colored as they would have for white women and demanded that they stop smoking. They got rather hot at his remarks and advanced toward him. Thinking a fight was imminent, Rayburn attempted to kick all the male passengers out of the car. The car was then on Easton avenue, between Sarah street and Newstead avenue, and Officer O'Toole, who happened to be passing, arrested Rayburn. Rayburn, who is a very quiet sind mildmannered man when sober, was fined $10 by Jddge Paxson. on Florence avenue, near St. Louis avenue

SMALL ALLOWANCE

That Made for Employment of Special Counsel in Government Suits.

BAILROADS AND OTHER INTERESTS RE-TAIN THE ABLEST LAWYERS.

The Small Appropriation for Paying Lawvers Employed by the Government Places It at a Disadvantage-The Largest Retaining Fee Warranted Is $2.500-Movement to Remedy the Handicap.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.-The Pacific Railroad litigation and various other suits in which the Government is interested has directed the attention of the House Committee on Appropriations to the meager amount allowed the Department of Justice for the em-ployment of special counsel. The railroads and other private interests retain the ablest lawyers in the country, but such special counsel as is retained by the Government must be brought within a rate which few lawyers of standing will accept.

While Mr. Miller was Attorney-General the fund for employing special counsel was $35,-000 annually. It was reduced to $20,000 last year, and it stands at that sum in the sundry civil appropriation bill recently reported to the House. The Attorney-General is obliged to spread this $20,000 ever the entire country and through the entire year.

It has been found that the total was so small that no retainer beyond $2,500 was warranted. It has been urged to members of the committee that counsel of sufficient ability to manage the vast interests in volved could not be secured for $2,500. One of the officials of the Department of Justice recently talked unofficially with members of the committee as to the need of a larger special fund and it is probable that the Attorney-General will authorize an official request for an advance in the appropriation. The proposition for an advance may be opposed in the committee on the ground that the regular legal officers of the Government should attend to Government litigation without the employment of outside counsel. But to this the answer is made that the Pacific Railroad litigation and other important suits demand that the Government should have a legal array equal at least to those representing private interests. While the theory is admitted that Government attorneys should manage Government suits, it is said that the application of this theory to important suits will seriously cripple the Government side of cases involving many millions. the committee as to the need of a larger

ONE-HORSE JUDGE.

John M. Glover's Comment in Court on Mayor Walbridge.

City Counselor Marshall and John M Glover argued the defendant's demurrer to the plaintiff's petition in the Brennan-Waioridge $50,000 damage suit before Judge liant to-day. Secretary Saunders was an attentive listener to the proceedings, but his nonor the Mayor did not appear. Dr. Brennan was not present either.

Mr. Glover very impressively read the petition in the case, supplementing his reading with remarks and explanations which made the story very interesting. Mr. Glover said that the plaintiff intended to make his case on the ground that there was a con spiracy against him, which conspiracy had been entered into by the Mayor before he was elected to the office he held when he removed Dr. Brennan. The Mayor was at the time of Dr. Brennan's appointment a member of the City Council, which approved the nomination, and continued as such member until he became a candidate for the office of Mayor, at which time he entered into the conspiracy with Chauncey I, Filley, John H. Pohlman and Dr. Max starkloff, whereby it was agreed that Dr. Brennan should be scriffeed and Dr. Starkloff put in his place as Health Commissioner of the city. Mr. Glover said that the subsequent alleged was clearly a case of over-stepping the lines of jurisdiction and was punishable. "Even you, your honor, are liable if you do ome act beyond the jurisdiction of the tourt, and it is reasonable to believe that hese little, hybrid, one-horse judges constructed by statute are more so, "said he little attorney.

City Counselor Marshall took the Mayor's ide of the case, and argued in support of the temurrer to Brennan's petition.

DEMOCRACY VINDICATED

The importance of the conviction John Y. McKane, the political czar of Coney Island, is not confined to the immediate neighborhood of his crimes. Every citizen of the United States has an interes n and reason to rejoice over the punishnent of this arrogant scoundrel.

Nothing is clearer than the solidarity of popular interests in opposition to political ossism and villainy. A reigning boss is menace to the welfare of all people. It was McKane's boast that his flop to Republicanism four years ago elected Harrison. Whether this is true or not the pos sibility of some petty political corruptionist determining through rascality the outcome of a national election and the policy of the government cannot be denied. The success of bossism in any part of the country is an encourage ment to bossism in all parts of the country. Its defeat and pun shment are a warning to oad men and a stimulus to good men.

No more conspicuous example of the ar rogant and unscrupulous boss could be found than McKane's. His insolence was nonumental. He was absolute ruler of his little political domain. All power was concentrated in himself and his word was law. He was attended and implicitly obeyed by a body guard of thugs. He defied all law and authority. He treated the revolt of the people of Brooklyn with contempt. He had the registration of his district increased to over three the Government enters into an obligation THE discussion between Dole, Willis times the voting population. ## THE REPERENDUM AGAIN.

have come out for what is known as the referendum in the following resolution: We demand direct legislation by the peo ple, through the initiative and referendum which means that 5 per cent of the electors shall have the power and privilege of propos ing laws, and that laws of importance nether proposed or initiated by the people or their representatives in legislative assem bly, shall be referred to the people for ratifi-cation or rejection, in a manner more or less similar to that now used in making nges in or ratifying the State constitu

This principle of the referendum has been indorsed by both Republicans and Democrats in Massachusetts, and in Ohio has been favorably discussed by several public men. There is no doubt that it is a step toward ideal Democracy, and is therefore likely to be seriously considered with a view to its practical application.

The chief merit of the Swiss idea is that it places the law-making power more directly in the hands of the people, the duties of the Legislature being principally those of suggestion and formulation. The real decision is left to the people on all important questions so that most of the evils of snap judgment or legislative corruption can be prevented, or corrected before it is too late.

It is safe to say that the course of legis lation would be very different from what it now is if the voters themselves were forced to decide not only questions of general policy, but single important enactments as well. The protective legislation of this country, for instance, could never have grown as it has, had the people of the West, who bear the greater part of the burden, been able to make themselves felt directly, instead of through timid representatives, always fearful of party discipline. In like manner, when legislation is initiated among the people, it is likely to be more disinterested than if it give them pauper wages. originates in the privacy of committee rooms, where special interests "get in

BETTER THAN HE'S PAINTED

Senator Cockrell testifies that his attisude and feelings with regard to the attempt to brand his vote as marketable have been accurately represented by the POST-DISPATCH. He vigorously resents by word of mouth and letter the imputation that he can be bought for the President's use with a mess of spoils. He is quoted as saying:

I am humiliated to think that any on swerve from my duty by the gift of an office. If I were offered all the Federal appointments in my State I should not vote for a man unless I thought him worthy. The trading and foundations of our Government and demon izing to our whole political system. Better inveterate subserviency to the Executive Department. Any Senator who has any self-respect would be above such a course.

The senior Missouri Senator is evidently a man of finer honesty and higher mind than the St. Louis organ of the unemployed politicians and its little band of accordant cuckoos would have the public think him.

THE LOBBY'S VIEW.

A Washington correspondent calls attention to a startling new departure embodied in the omnibus war claims bill, which has been reported to the Hous with a favorable recommendation.

The bill provides for the payment $1,000,000 indemnity to citizens of Pennsylvania for damages suffered by reason of the invasion of the State by Confederate forces. In recommending the payment of this sum the committee lays down the proposition that the Federal' Government is under obligation to indemnify citizen of all States for losses suffered from hostile forces. This conclusion is deduced from the provision of the Constitution binding the Federal Government to protect each of the States against invasion. The committee reasons that having assumed the duty of protecting the States in consideration of the surrender of the war-making power, JUDGE GREGG of the Police Court of Cincinnati recently declared before the Evangelical Alliance of that city that confirmed criminality is the product of a disordered mind, a species of insanity which operates upon the brain of the victim, robs him of his will power and controls his actions. He classed the inebriate, the kleptomaniac and the habitual thief under one head. Drunkards, thieves and shoplifters often serve as many as fifteen or twenty terms in the work-house or penitentiary. He thought that for small offenders asylums would be punishment of the right kind if supplemented by education and solitary confinement.

THE threat of the Trenton potters to put down wages on account of the Wilson bill is not half as significant as their admission that there has been a steady decline of the business since 1885. ## Ingalla' Religion.

From the Detroit Free Press

The report that ex Senator John J. Ingalis of Kansas has been coverted through the ministrations of the revivalist, "Sam" Jones, would be hailed with delight all over the land were it not accompanied by the statement that Mrs. Ingalls does not believe it. Upon general principles Mrs. Ingalis ought to know; and there will be a disposition to accept her denial, even against the testimony of the dispatches. It is worthy of note, however, that the good lady's denial is based on the assumption that her husband does not need converting, being already a thurch member. This may do for fem logic, but it will hardly pass muster with the men and those who know the Kansas

Income Tax or Land Tax.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Under the proposed income tax Mr. William Waldorf actor would pay $178,000 on an annual income of $8,900,000.
If we consider the services which the Government renders the gentleman the amount he will be asked to pay for such services is certainly not too much, yet with all the power at his command he bitterly opposes any and all attempts to make him pay for the protection he receives. If he were wise he would not object to the income tax, for in his own State there is something worse in store for him. er to the tax law known as the county

I refer to the tax law known as the county option tax law.

It permits each county and municipality to tax land values, or improvements, or personal property, or any one, or any two or all three, as the people of the county or municipality may decide.

In New York this law came within four votes of passing last year.

Its enactment cannot long be delayed, and once enacted New York Ulty will at once abolish the taxes on personal property, and it will then not be long before the people of that city will be convinced that it is quite as just and as important to exempt improvements as to exempt personal property. With improvements and personal property exempt, land values alone can be taxe.

can be tax.

Mr. Astor approximates in ground rent—produced by the community, and therefore the property of the community—in round

New York takes 90 per cent of its own, Mr.
Astor will pay $4,500,000 of what does not

Wants Older Teachers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I see by your paper that they are to reinstate the married teachers. I think it a wise plan, for there are entirely too many young ladies teaching in our schools that are really not fit for their positions. They have no patience with the children and it seems they take no interest in them whatever, and of times address children as though they we not human. Parents have gone to Principal with complaints of this kind a our young lady teachers are excepted from this, as of course there are excepted from this, as of course there are exceptions to all rules. The reason I speak of this is that I have children attending the Carondelet School and have had it to contend with. I know if the older teachers were retained this would not occur. The children would have better attention.

The entire Public School Library Building belongs to the public; every dollar of the funds paid in for the Free Library also does. I suppose the writer does not know the police have to furnish their own uniform, hats, etc.; and to do this out of 550 a month would be absurd. As it was they found in Henry's lodgings some chlorate powder, picric acid and some copper tubes, evidently intended for use in the manufacture of bombs similar to those used by Vallant and by Henry himself.

The Board of Education Will Probab Drop the Librarian.

The determination of the Library Committee of the Board of Education to plan to bring the expenses of the Public School Library within the amount allowed by the board, namely, $6,000," as President F. W. Brockman expressed it in his letter yesterday to O. L. Whitelaw, will necessitate the adoption of heroic measures. The expense is now $1,400 a month instead of $500. The chopping off of some official heads seems the logical outcome of the meeting this afternoon. The Librarian, Frederick M. Crunden, has been a consistent supporter the Free Library Board, fate lies in the hands of the Board of Education, who, together with the president and vice-president, constitute a majority of nine out of sixteen of the Board of Management of the Public Library. Mr. Crunden draws a salary of $300 a month. The Library Committee have, it is said, been egged on to his slaughter by their fellow-members of the Board of Education.

President Brockman did not know this morning whether Mr. Crunden's resignation would be asked for. He was inclined to think not. "Yes," he said, "this move has been talked about; it has been suggested to me by more than one person." fate lies in the hands of the Board Director Hermann C. Grawe believed $300 a month was too big a salary for a $20,000 business, public or private.

D. Kremien and the murdered Brandt.

Seven months' imprisonment has not apparently had any bad effect upon Meyer's health. After reading the newspaper clipping in which the likeness of Kremien to Brandt was pointed out, Dr. Meyer said: "I know that the man in Baltimore is not Brandt, for the very good reason that Brandt is at the present moment in Chicago."

Here was a man about to be tried for the second time on the charge of murdering a certain individual who coolly afinounced that not only was his supposed victim alive and well, but that he knew exactly where he could be found. "Do you mean to say," he was asked, "that you know Ludwig Brandt to be alive?"

"I do," was the reply, "I received a letter from him less than ten days ago. It was written from Chicago, and fully explained his non-appearance at my former trial."

"Where is that letter?"

"I gave it to my counsel, Dr. O'Sullivan," was the reply, "If you see him and ne chooses to reply I have no objection, but I will not divulge its contents without his consent. I will vindicate myself at the trial, and, furthermore, I shall see that I am vindicate myself at the trial, and, furthermore, I shall see that I am tried, and the same evidence of the State will be my evidence. There is a conspiracy behind my indictment, and the nigger in the wood-pile will be exposed after the trial of the case. It does not stand to reason that I alone should be indicted. I locked Hedgepeth's cell at 4 o'clock on the evening previous to his attempted escape. Guards Connors and Burke followed me and tried the doors. If the door was not locked, why did not Connors and Burke discovers it? Besides this key was, as is customary, left in the fail from 4 o'clock that evening until 7, and why couldn't any of the other guards have unlocked Hedgepeth's story about holding the cell door shut and deceiving the guards with a broomstick, it is all bosh. Andlif I am to be indicted for not discovering this broomstick trick, are not Connors and Burke equally culpable in failing to observe the same trick? It is all very queer to everybody but me, but for some time past a certain political clique has been tryling to get me out of the jail, and this is the result of their efforts. I do not care to injure anybody at present, but they will near from me when the proper time comes. A peculiar point in connection with my case is the fact that the past Grand-jury was almost identically the same as the body that indicted John Fitzgerald for alding in the jail delivery of a couple of years back. There were a couple of men on it, however, who did not serve on the Grand-jury of two years ago."

The Ohio Governor Receives an Enthusiastic Ovation at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 16.-Gov. William McKinley of Ohio received an ovation here last night at the grand Republican rally for the State ticket, which is to be voted on next Tuesday. The Ohioan was the principal speaker of the evening, and upon his appearance the assembled thousands went wild with enthusiasm, velling itself hoarse with

The tariff was his subject, and he made one of his proverbial protection arguments, which seemed at least to strike conviction to his hearers. He arraigned the Democratic party for the present lack of employment for workingmen, and dscribed it largely to the influence of the Wilson bill.

Postmaster Sahm's Appointment. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 16.-Lucius B.

tion is highly indignant at the removal by the President of Postmaster Thompson and the appointment in his stead of Mr. Sahm, He ascribes it to the influence of the "buccaneering Congressmen who now misrepresent and disgrace the State," who, he claims, manipulate primaries and conventions through the aid of Federal appointees to secure their own nomination.

Mr. Swift also instructes that Sahm's appointment was made to influence senator Turple's vote for Peckham. "If that is true," he says, "the President has put himself on a level with the blocks-of-five politicians the country over. There is no difference between buying a vote with an office and buying it with money." the President of Postmaster Thompson and

MARRIED FOR MONEY.

Suit at Kansas City Growing Out of a Peculiar Ante-Nuptial Contract. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 16 .- A very inter esting suit has been brought before a Justice of the Peace here to recover $200, which was the price to be paid Henry Risburg if he married the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Binkovitz. Last December Mrs. Binkovitz had an unmarried daughter on her hands and made a bargain with Risburg to marry her and of-fering him a bonus of $200 to do it. Fearing that Risburg would play her a trick she put the money up in the hands of a stakeholder to be turned over to the groom when he married.

The young man was duly married but did not get his money because Mrs. Binkovitz claims he did not live up to his bargain and deserted his wife shortly after his marriage. She is suing the stakeholder for the money.

As soon as the wreck occurred three masked men sprang up out of the bushes and commenced a fusilade, and every one on board knew that the mission of the desper-does was robbery.

A few seconds later a couple of dynamite bombs were placed under the express car. The messenger refused to open the car and the whole side was blown off.

Brakeman Foster arose to the emergency as soon as he heard the shots and made a run a light. Here he got a team and drove back to Burbank and gave the alarm. He could not tell how much the robbers got, but thought it probable that they cleaned out the express car, as they had their own way when he left. He said Engineer Thomas was badly hurt, as well as the fireman. Foster could not tell whether any passengers were hurt, but thought they were badly Morrell may have participated in the affray, but as there were three men this is hardly possible. A fusilade of pistol shots was continuously kept up, and it is not unlikely that some of the train crew or passengers may have been hurt before they found out what

The cases of John Winkiemeyer, who keeps to boarding house near Ninth and Arsenal streets, and Fred R. Ortiz were on to-day's locket in the Court of Criminal Correction, tharred with being implicated in a South St. Louis coffee steal. Ortiz was arrested some lime ago and warrants issued against him. All the horgarizing grocery charging him with burglarizing grocery stores, and stealing several sacks of coffee. Louis Osterholt, a grocer at Broadway and Soulard street, Henry Kasten, 2800 De Kalb street, and Conrad L. Lutz of 701 Mynch street, were the complainants. Winkelmeyer was charged with receiving the coffee. Winkelmeyer agreed to turn State's evidence and the case against him was dismissed. When he tool against him was dismissed. When he took the stand, however, he electrified the prosecution by swearing that he had bought the coffee from Ortiz before the dates on which the coffee was alleged to have been stolen from the grocers. This cleared Ortiz and he was discharged. Much indignation was exhibited by grocers whose coffee had been stolen, and the detectives who had worked up the case were wild at the manner in which the case had fallen through. Charges and countercharges of false swearing were made. Ortiz was arrested as he was leaving the court-room and a warrant sworn out against him by Sanders, a grocer at $700 South Broadway, who charges him with stealing a sack of coffee in question was found at Winkelmeyer's place and identified by Sanders as his coffee.

The police state they have received more than one complaint against Williams from persons who intrusted him with their watches to repair and had difficulty in getting them back. sons who intrusted bim with their watches to repair and had difficulty in getting them back.

In the present case David Bernero of 1027 Washington avenue gave Williams a $50 gold watch to repair. Williams gave his uumber to Bernero as 1217 Morgan street. When Bernero went to get his watch he was told at the place that Williams did not live there. Bernero swore out a warrant against him charging him with the larceny of the watch, and Williams was arrested by Officers Keeshan and Regan. When Williams' case was called today Williams was brought out of the cage and asked how he would plead.

'I pleads not guilty, youh honnah,'' replied Williams.

'Have you a lawyer?'' asked Judge Claiborne.

a''No, sal. I'se got no lawyah and I asks to be allowed to offeciate.'

'All right,'' said Judge Claiborne; and the case proceeded.

Williams took notes while Bernero was giving his direct testimony, and when Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes was through with the witness was through with the witness Bernero was turned over to Williams. The latter arose from his seat and approaching the bar said:

'What was youh object in havin' me arrested no how?''

"What was youb object in havin' me ar-rested no how?"

Bernero replied that his object was to get his watch back.

HITTING HASHEESH.

How the Slave of the Indian Drug Smokes He Pipe.

From Chamber's Journal. A favorate sweetnest is obtained by making an infusion of the (Canadis indica) in hot water, to which butter or oil is added. The resin attaches itself to the meited butter or il, and when evaporated, is kneaded with flour and spices into cakes or pastilles, called "majun." Simple infusions of the leaves and flowering tops are also made and drank in many parts of Iniia by old and young alike at some of their festivals, just as alcholic drinks are teo frequently used in our country on similar occasions.

Like opium, however, hasheesh is chiefly used for smoking, and when thus used it is almost always in combination with tobacco. First, a plug of tobacco is placed at the bottom of the bowl of the pipe, and on the top of this a small plece of hasheesh, and over this, again, a piece of red-hot charcoal. Or this hasheesh is kneaded withithe tobacco by the thumb of one hand working in the paim of the other until theroughly incorporated, when they are transferred to the bowl and lighted, as in the previous case. It first effect when thus used is one of intense exhiliaration, almost amounting to delirium.

The victim uses the power of thought and will carry on in the most extravagant manner imaginable, alternately laughing, singling or dancing, all the time believing himself to be acting rationally. The English derivative of the word hasheesh gives a terrible and too well deserved significance in this connection. Hashash is the term used for one who smokes "hashash," from which our English word "assassin" is said to be derived.

Doubtless, it is in this first stage of hallucination and frenzy that most of the crimes—and they have been many—attributed to the use of this drug have been committed; for the second is one of dreamy enjoyment, finally followed, if the dose has been full, by stupors odense as almost to amount to a state of catalepsy. It has been said that a fortnight's use of hasheesh will make its victima complete slave to the habit, and its end, as in the case of the use of opium, is degradation and ruin, physical, social and moral. and flowering tops are also made and drank

Late Telegraph Markets.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 16.—It was a demoralized as in wheat. New York sold a good deal, partiy he way of shert selling and party in the way quidation. Several large localities also closed out there was a generous amount of short selling on the sharp decline buyers took hold more free, and prices reacted nearly 1c. Shorts cover bersily, and there was good speculative buy! on the theory that after such a simple good reaction was due.

THE KICK THAT WENT ASTRAY. Funny Little Comedy That Was Quietly

From the Poughkeepsie News.

A young Poughkeepsian a few days since licked up a friend on Market street and too member.

When their guest had eaten his four cysters the host asked him to take some more. The wife looked distressed and the guest designed. The husband insisted that his friend thould have more. The wife looked as if she were in agony, and the guest drain refused to allow the rest of the cysters to be brought from the kitchen. Later the wife said to her nusband:

husband:

"How could you urge him to have more oysters when I explained to you that there weren't any more?"

"I am very sorry," said the penitent husband, "but I forgot all about it."

"What do you suppose I was kicking you under the table for?" retorted his wife.

"But you didn't kick me," said the husband.

515---Thornton Waist.

Sizes, 34, 36, 38 and 40 Inches, Bust Measure For an independent waist of silk, lightweight woolen, lipen or cotton, to be sed with various skirts, this is an admirable design, simple, and very generally becoming, while it is quite as suitable to complete a costume made entirely of the same goods, India or any light-weight silk, cashmere, crepon or other light woolens or washable goods. While the effect is more dressy if velvet be used for the collar, belt and bertha, they may all be made of the material used for the waist; by omitting the bertha it is a be made of the material used for the waist; by omitting the bertha it is a model that is appropriate for the most practical uses. The back arranged the same as the front, and the belt may be finished with a rosette back or front. It is shown in combination with the "Keene" skirt, which is described below. Half of the waist pattern is given in eleven pieces: Front, side gore, side form, and back of lining; outer front and back pieces, bertha, collar and three pieces of the sleeve. Gather the outer front and back of the holes in each, respectively. Lay three box plaits in the upper edge of the bertha, according to the holes, and place it to the row of holes across the front and back pieces. Gather the outer pieces of the sleeve at the top, between the holes. To make the full belt, cut a belt of carwas four or five inches wider than the canvas. Place the outer material lossely over the lining, and tack it where necessary.

Cut the front and back pieces lengthwise of the goods, and lay the back edge of the back piece to a lengthwise fold; the side gores are also to be cut lengthwise. Cut the bertha either bias or straight, and the sleeves so they will be blas below the elbows. Before cutting the goods be careful to read "Directions for Cutting," printed on the envelope.

34 and 36 bust measure will require four strength or straight, and the straight and a beautiful to the second the second the surface of goods twenty-four inches wide.

Sa and 40 bust measure will require four 516---Keene Skirt.

Sizes, Medium and Large.

This skirt is an example of the present fureur for the circle cut. It is a gored skirt to which a circle flounce is attached, and the overskirt is in circle shape. The model is especially becoming to tall, siender figures, and the overskirt is simple and graceful. It has a little fullness in the back. If it is desirable to omit the overskirt, the underskirt is quite complete without it.

Half of the pattern is given in five pieces: Front, side gore, and half of back breadth of underskirt; flounce and overskirt. Fit the darts carefully in the front and side gore of the underskirt, and gather both the under and overskirt shack of the north in the top of each. Cut the flounce and overskirt with the lengthway of the goods down the middle of the front. Cut all the other pieces lengthwise, with the side gores straight on their front edges. Before cutting the goods be careful to read "Directions for Cutting," printed on the envelope.

The medium size will require ten yards of goods twenty-four inches wide for the overskirt and flounce, and four yards for the underskirt.

The large size will require ten yards and a half of goods twenty-four inches wide for the overskirt and flounce, and four yards and a quarter for the underskirt.

Oscar Miller Almost Drowned in Caron-Oscar Miller, a 16-year-old boy, had a nar row escape from being drowned in the icy water of a pond in the west end of Carondeet Park yesterday. The prompt action his friends and their presence of mind saved him. Young Miller skated into a hole in the ice. The water was about seven feet deep at the point where he went in, and the ice in the immediate vicinity was thin and dangerous, so much so that his friends could not come to his rescue. In this predicament one of the boys rushed to the park fence and kicked off several of the large pickets; with these laid crosswise under his body, he reached Miller, took firm hold of him and friends pulled both boys back on to firm ice. Eugene Behr, manager of the Carondelet Electric Express, had a dispate with Charles Hicks, an employe. The men came to blows and Hicks was kocked down and hat to be carried away to have his injuries dressed.

soond Day's Session of the C

GATES ARRIVED SINCE YESTERDAY.

by Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, Corresponding Secretary-Great and Encouraging Advances Shown - The Day's Proceedings.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—The ladies attending the Woman's Suffrage Convention were tardy in arriving at Metzwrott fiall today and consequently it was late when Miss Anthony called the session to order.

A number of additional delegates have arrived since yesterday. The reports of the Credential Committee and of the treasurer were on the programme fer consideration this morning, but Mrs. Harriett Taylor Upton having these matters in charge, said that owing to delays in receiving credentials of members and the treasurer's books, she was unprepared to submit the reports. The convention then listened to the corresponding secretary of the association, Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery.

The report of Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery said that the advances along the line of woman suffrage had been very great and unwoman suffrage had been very great and un-usually encouraging, even for these en-couraging times. The splendid and almost unhoped-for victory in Coloredo had pre-pared all for devoted work, even in the face of difficulties which may appear insur-mountable. Among all the rejoicings none had seemed so significant of a change in the had seemed so significant of a change in the public sentiment as the rejoicing of the Wellesley students, where the girls are receiving the higher education as one of the first fruits of the struggle for political ceiving the alguer education as one of the first fruits of the struggie for political rights and are awakening to the underlying principle of justice between the sexes. The future of the cause was, Mrs. Avery said, in safe hands. She referred to the disappointed hopes of the women of Michigan and New York, where certain laws on the subject of woman suffrage had been declared unconstitutional. Speaking of New York, she asked what cared the women there at this great crisis of their political history. They were organizing the grandest campaign for equality of rights that the country had yet seen.

"Looking further away we find," says the report, "the past year made memorable in woman suffrage annais by the extension of the franchise to the women of New Zealand and by their eager and enthusiastic entry into political life at the late election, when one-third of the votes were cast by the women and when the proportion of defective ballots was smaller than ever before. In England the women have, in spite of the Government opposition, been endowed with the Parish Councils franchise in company with several classes of men now enfranchised."

with several classes of men now enfranchised."

As a member of the National Council of Women the association had the opportunity, said the report, of bringing its principles to the notice of women who would never of their own notion attend a suffrage meeting. The next public meeting of the council, which will be held in this city next spring, would prove an immense help to the woman suffrage cause in showing the interest of women of all creeds and interest in the public questions which are agitating the nations. Mrs. Avery suggested that the pilgrim mothers' dinner, originated in New York by Mrs. Blake and others, was an annual gathering which it would be well to inaugurate in every city, and she thought that the ministers who favor equality for women should be urged to preach at least once a year upon that subject. Woman must feel it her chief work now to crystallize into organized form the mass of public sentiment which was growing in favor of the cause of woman suffrage.

A $20,000 Deal in Angelica Street Prop

There was a manifest improvement in the real estate market this morning and several sales of importance were consummated both of speculative and improvement properties. The J. T. Donovan Real Estate Co. report the sale of 100x219½ feet of ground on the north side of Angelica street 500 feet east of the sale of 100x2194 feet of ground on the north side of Angelica street 800 feet east of Hall street for $20,000 or $40 a foot, from A. B. Yeaman to Joseph T. Donovan. It is manufacturing property and is within a short distance of the Merchant's Terminal Railroad yards on Hall street. Mr. Donovan bought for investment.

D. J. Hayden & Co. report the sale of houses Nos. 914, 916, 918 and 920 North Leonard avenue, four two-story six and seven-room dwellings with 75x135 feet of ground for $12,000, from D. J. Hayden to P. F. Dockery. The property rents for $11,400 per annum. Lorenzo Gandolfo will improve the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Pine streets with a $20,000 hotel struckure. The plans for this edifice have been designed by George B. Reid, the Architect and Building Commissioner and are very complete. The building according to the designs: will be a four-story structure, having a frontage of 25 feet by a depth of 109 feet 4 inches. The lower floor will be arranged for stores and the hotel office. The floors above will be in suits with a bath for each. The exterior of the building will be of red stock brick will carved red sand stone trimmings.

EDWARD MILLER ARRESTED AND IDEN-TIFIED AS ONE OF THE GANG.

fred Flachmeier Says That He Heard Miller and a Smaller Man Conversing After The Fhooting, and That the Latter Said He Was Badly Wounded-Bacher Fired Five Shots in All.

About 1 o'clock this morning there was great excitement in the neighborhood of Twelfth and Biddle streets, occasioned by the rapid discharge of pistol shots. A short ile previous to this Charles Bacher, an ploye in the saloon at 1200 Biddle street, five young men attempting to force entrance through the front door. secured a revolver, and while the was still at work on the door he fired five shots directly at the five men, who were gathered closely in front of the place. would be burglars made their escape, Mr. Bacher is confident that at least two of the shots which he fired took effect, and he thinks that two of the crowd were woundd. While Flachmeier was watching the two suspects he says that he heard the tall one, Miller, say to his companion, "You stand by me, now."

"I can't," said his companion, "I am shot in the side."

At this Flachmeier claims that another shot was fired by the tall one, which seemed to have been discharged in the direction of his companion. The two men then separated, the smaller man running into the yard in the rear of Bunk's saloon and the tall man into an adjoining yard to the west. The small man ilmped as though badly wounded and his efforts to escape were not very earnest.

A vigorous search through the yards in the neighborhood, and also the houses, saloons and any other places where a wounded man might seek shelter was made but no trace of the supposed wounded suspect or his confederate could be found. No one had seen them and they were not in hiding in any of the neighboring outhouses. Sergt. O'sullivan then went out in search of the tail man and following Flachmeler's instructions called at Dr. Cornwall's establishment this morning at an early hour, and placing Miller under arrest, brought him to the Third District Station. Shortly afterward Flachmeler called at the police station and when afterward Fischmeier called at the police station and when brought into Miller's presence identified him as the tail man who stood on the sidewalk and did the shooting. Later Sergt. O'Sulli-van called at the Four Courts and obtained a warrant charging Miller with burglary in the second degree.

Palmer's New York Theater, committed suicide last October by taking carbolic acid and shooting himself.

Miss Brooklyn, although able to fill her parts, is said to have been mentally unbalanced ever since. She imitated her lover to the extent of taking carbolic acid, but omitted the shooting. She had been connected with Palmer's company forten years. She left a will scribbled on an envelope leaving her ciothing to "Buttons," who is supposedly a member of the company. Her money, $150, she directs to be invested for "Mary." It is not known who the latter is. Miss Brooklyn's part in "Alabama" last night was taken by her understudy.

A Lesson Which He Is Not Likely to Soon Forget.

He Fixed Upon Poor Johanna Mahon as the Victim of a Deal.

HER BADLY NEEDED PLACE WAS TO BE GIVEN TO A POLITICAL SUPPORTER.

The Post-Dispatch Made an Investigation Supplemental to That of the Building Committee, and the Board Sat Down Hard on the Committee.

Mrs. Johanna Mahon, the faithful janitress of the Oak Hill School, is secure in her post tion and saved from unmerited disaster despite the efforts of School Director Elmer Lacey to have her discharged in order to make room for the reward of a politica henchman.

As far as lay in the power of the School Board Building Committee the great wrong purposed to be wrought against this helpless woman was carried out to its bitter end. Under the urging of Director Elmer E. Lacey the committee included Mrs. Mahon's name in the list of employes of the School Board to be discharged by order of the board at its meeting of Tuesday night of this week. One Nick Kendall, an able bodied political ward worker, was to be the beneficiary of this act of cruel injustice to Mrs. Mahon.

The deal was a cold hearted one; the fact that its intended victim was a defenseless widow with an old mother and two sons dependent upon her, and that she had performed her duty faithfully for seven years past, seems to have cut no faure in the case. Room had to be made for the reward of a political worker, and Mrs. Johanna Mahon stood in the way. So, urged by School Director Elmer E. Lacey, the School Board Building Committee recommended her discharge. Had the Building Committee's recommendation been carried out the faithful janitress of the Oak Hill School would have learned in all its bitterness the heartlessness of political methods as now in vogue in the School Board.

In the severest cold of winter she would cal methods as now in vogue in the School Board.

In the severest cold of winter she would have been inade homeless, herself and her old mother and her two sons destitute, without a dollar in the world, without work by which bread could have been gained.

This was the plain result of the deal engineered by School birector Lacey for the reward of Nick Kendall.

Fortunately this deal did not go through. Fortunately the School Board of St. Louis was saved from the shame of having perpetrated such an injustice on a defenseless woman. Last week Dr. Thomas O'Reilly, the well-

Last week Dr. Thomas O'Reilly, the well-known physician of this city, wrote a letter to the Sunday Post-Disparch giving the facts in the case of Mrs. Mahon.

The Post-Disparch immediately took the matter up and ventilated the deal by which Mrs. Mahon was to lose the position on which she depended for the support of herself and family.

On Tuesday night last the report of the Building Committee, recommending the discharge of Mrs. Mahon along with several other board employes, was submitted to the School Board for action.

The case of Mrs. Mahon was immediately taken up by members of the board who had been shocked by the heartlessness of the deal affecting her. The inquiry into her service as janitress of Oak Hill School developed the fact that there were no grounds for her proposed discharge from that position.

Prof. Geo. Martin. Principal of the school.

veloped the late that were the bound of the school, for her proposed discharge from that position,

Prof. Geo. Martin, Principal of the school, had already stated that Mrs. Mahon had always performed the duties of janitress faithfully and satisfactorily when the Post-Dis-Pattel made ils investigation of the facts.

The little deal of School Director Elmer E. Lacey had evidently been concocted with no thought that it would be exposed to scrutiny. When it was brought to light, the heartlessness of its shocked the School Board into indignant action. Mr. Lacey's course was severely condemned, and that gentleman was handled in a way that will make him remember for a long time his effort to deprive a good and faithful woman of her means of livelihood in order to reward a political worker.

means of livelihood in order to reward a political worker.

Mr. Lacey has never attempted a defense of his course. When he was first seen by a reporter of the Post-Dispatch on the day the deal was exposed, Mr. Lacey declined to discuss the matter in any way.

He declined to say by whom the charges of incompetency against Mrs. Mahon were preferred.

incompetency against Mrs. Mahon were preferred.

He declined to say what led him to make the statement that Mrs. Mahon was incompetent as janitress of the Oak Hill School.

He declined to throw any light whatever on the case in which he figured in such an unterviable manner. And so the case went before the School Board as a body last Tuesday night. The Board promptly reinstated Mrs. Mahon in her position as janitress.

It would be possible for Mr. Lacey to bring the case again before the board at its March meeting by preferring charges once more against Mrs. Mahon if he has any proof that she is incompetent. But it is not likely that he will do so. The action of the board, and the remarks made preceding that action, have probably convinced Mr. Lacey that he will not be able to reward his friend, Nick Kendall, by giving him the janitorship of Oak Hill School.

Director Lacey was seen by a Post-Dis-

Wheat—Seldom is the feeling so nervous or the market so fearfully unietiled as they were this morning. Periods of demoralization, approaching a panic, were quickly followed by spurts of strength and railies. There was pienty of wheat for saile, but most of the selling was by aggressive bears. Small lots of long wheat were forced out by the early decline, but considering was by aggressive bears. Future — May opened at 544gc, sold up to 554gc, to 545gc, to 545 Hill school.

Director Lacey was seen by a Post-DisPATCH reporter again to day. He was asked if anything further would be done in the case of Mrs. Mahon.

"I have nothing whatever to say," replied
Mr. Lacey.

"Have you any other cases of a similar nature to be brought before the board?" he was next asked.

was next asked.
''I have nothing whatever to say," replied Mr. Lacey.

And so the case stands, so far as School Director Lacey stands in his attitude toward Director Lacey stands in his attitude toward the public.
President Brockman of the School Board was seen to-day and said:
"I don't think there will be any further action in the case of Mrs. Mahon. The School Board's action Tuesday night was definite in that it notified the Building committee that the charges against Mrs. Mahon were not sustained. I understand that there were complaints about her, but nothing to justify her discharge."

New York—The granger stocks, especially C. B. & Q. seems to be the point of attack by the bears. The selling to-day is by that element. The dividence on C. B. & Q. will be declared to-day, but the amount is only conjecture. The tracting in Whisky shares to-day looks like manipulation. Washington dispatches say there has been no definite sellon taken as yet by the Senate's sub-committee on the whisky tax question. It seems certain there will be an extension of the bonded period to five years and probably an increase in the tax of $1.10.

THE BRITISH LORDS.

otnion Ventured They Have Gone To Far in Parish Council Amendments.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—At the meeting at the residence of Duke of Devonshire recently, the Duke and other Peers present ventured an opinion that the House of Lords had gone too far in their amendments to the parish ell bill. The Duke of Dovonshire prom-Salisbury on the subject.

Other gentlemen at the conference ex-pressed the hope that Peers would act conpressed the hope that Peers would act consistently in regard to the employers' liability bill and would firmly support the Earl of Dudler's contracting-out amendment. The Times says: We do not undertake to anticipate the action of the House of Lords when the parish councils bill is returned to them from the House of Commons, but it is probable that they will offer important modifications of the changes which they originally insisted upon. We doubt very much whether the amendments to which they will adhere can be so misrepresented as to furnish any plausible grounds for manufacturing an outery against the upper house.

CONVICT KUENSCHREIR'S DEATH.

It Recalls the Dramatic Manner in Which He Was Reprieved Years Ago. BERLIN, Feb. 16 .- The death of a convict of the name of Kuenschneir in the prison at Waldheim, Saxony, recalls the dramatic manner in which this man received a reprieve. He was sentenced in 1865 to death for the murder of a shop-keeper in Leipsic.

The day for his execution had arrived, he The day for his execution had arrived, he was all ready on the scaffold and the knife was about to fall, when a messenger arrived with a reprieve from King John just in time to save his head.

The shouts of the messenger, which were taken up by the crowd, caused the executioner to delay his work until the messenger arrived. The man's sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life.

On his death bed Kuenschneir confessed that he had committed the crime for which he was punished.

Fight Between Grain Receivers and Public

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 16.-Indications point to a revival of the fight between the grain receivers on the Board of Trade and the public

The present move in this direction was pre-cipitated by the statement that the English syndicate controlling public elevators here is about to begin the purchase of grain in this country. A Board of Trade investigating committee has been appointed and an open meeting of the board will be held to consider the matter.
